

Concluding Remarks

With the support of the Central Government, the HKSAR Government formulated the first Five-Year Plan for Hong Kong in less than a year. The Five-Year Plan is of monumental significance. Not only is it an action agenda for Hong Kong to better integrate into and serve the overall national development, but also the strategic plan gearing up Hong Kong to capitalise on the aggregate advantages arising from the national and international opportunities, as well as a sustained pathway to enhancing social well-being. It is the blueprint for Hong Kong's economic and social development, a reform as well as a pivotal milestone for Hong Kong's new journey "from stability to prosperity".

Hong Kong's Five-Year Plan dovetails with national strategies, consolidating and enhancing Hong Kong's existing strengths, strengthening emerging industries, and promoting the diversified development of industries, so as to provide more opportunities for our citizens, especially our young people. The Five-Year Plan drives Hong Kong's high-quality development and allows us to continuously improve people's livelihood, taking on people's ever-growing needs for a better life as our fundamental objective.

We will stay committed to the "people-oriented" ethos, strive relentlessly to sustain economic development and enhance social well-being, so as to build a better Hong Kong!